DETAILED ACTION

The election, filed on 08 January 2007, is acknowledged. Upon reconsideration, said election supplemental to the election requirement is deemed necessary.

Specie Election

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species, and a choice of one from each of the following two species sets are required to be elected for examination:

- 1) An alkaline amino acid as listed in claim 3.
- 2). An acidic pharmaceutical drug as listed in claim 15.
- 3) A pharmaceutical or topical agent as listed in claim 18.
- 4) An additional agent as listed in claim 19

The species are independent or distinct because, in the case of alkaline amino acids, a search for one would not necessarily yield results for another. For example, arginine may be utilized in protein synthesis or stabilization of antichymotripsin for wound healing while omithine is used for the synthesis of polyamines. In the case of the acidic pharmaceutical drugs, again, a search for one would not necessarily yield results for another, because the different drugs may serve different functions. For example, acetaminophen is often utilized as an active ingredient to treat headaches while penicillin is used to kill bacterial infections. In the case of pharmaceutical or topical agents, again, a search for one will not necessarily yield results for another, since for example, the search for an anti-wrinkle cosmetic product would yield a different result than a search for, per se, an oral care agent. Finally, in the case of the additional agents in claim 19, a search for one will not necessarily yield results for the other, because again, these agents serve different functions in different types of treatment. For example, coal tar is often used for excema while camphor is often utilized for anesthesia.

The applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species within each group for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Applicant is advised to choose a range and corresponding time frame that is compatible with the therapeutic agent selected and properly disclosed in the specification, so as to avoid a rejection due to the presence of new matter. Currently, claims 1-19 and 30-36 are generic.

The applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected in each group consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP §809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that in order for the reply to this requirement to be complete, it must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. §103(a) of the other invention.

Inventorship Notice

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is not longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of the inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
